Alexander Tynkovan, President and CEO of OJSC “Company “M.video”, said: “We’re quite pleased with our second quarter positive retail revenue and double digit like-for-like sales of 11%. These results were underpinned by growing consumer confidence and increased number of purchases in our network. At the same time we noticed that the volume of consumer loans increased in our network signaling customers’ readiness to buy our products and services. We view that as a good sign for both the consumer electronics market and M.video performance in the second half of the year”.

He added: “Our successful store format and focus on the customer allows us to open new stores while remaining in a net cash position”.
